After playing a round of golf the ayer went yesterday with Dr. William Morrison, executive commissioner for the bome, to look over the new site. He aid be thought all the conditions were such as to make it highly desirable. He spent the evening with County Judge

Kane, who is an old acquaistance.
"We had quite a talk," said Judge
Kane. "We discussed farming and the prospects for the home. The Mayor thinks the prospects very good. He told me he was going to spend a week here in Warwick, living out doors as much as possible. He also seemed much pleased with the Red Swan Inn."

ARREST 6 CONEY BATHERS.

Water Sonked, They Played Ball and Annoyed Sightneers.

Maturally, yesterday was very profitable for the merchants and amusement pack proprietors of Coney Island and it is stated positively by a man wearing a straw hat who counted every visitor that not less than 250,000 persons went to the shore during the day. Mesers. Vice and Orime sent very few of their protoges to the resort. The police started in to eliminate what has become a rather undesirable feature of bathing by-products. According to the police, men possessed of what they believe fair agures strut up and down the believe fair figures strut up and down the beach, cruelly breaking accres of hearts. And others, it is said, first become thoroughly scaked in water and then, playing bail, rub against and moisten the dething of objecting persons who don't care the least bit for that sort of thing. Hiz men were arrested yesterday charged with doing about that.

Four other men went into an amusement device known as the "Phantom of Fun" on Surf avenue and Sheldon walk, and it is alleged, pushed Frank Herley, the manager, into the water, which is a necessary part of the contrivance. Hereley pulled one of the men, Henry Optic, of No. 180 Avenue B, in with him. The quartet were arrested.

"HAPPY'S" LAUGH SILENCED, LOSS OF DREXEL GEMS

News Seller, Pamillar Figure a Battery, Dies Suddenly.

"Happy" McAvoy, thirty years old, who for twenty years has sold news-papers at the Battery, was seized with an epileptic fit outside the Staten Island ferry-house yesterday afternoon and died before the arrival of Dr. Wortham McAvoy's first name was William, but to hundreds of persons he was known only as "Happy." He earned the name while attending a dinner given by Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, or later while at a boy in knickerhockers selling papers he danced, sang and whistled between spoils of crying, "Uxtra." He was single and lived at No. 25 Washington street. The other newsdealers and the goads were searched to no about the Battery think "Happy" saved gruch money. If it is found he did not, they will pay the funeral expenses.
